

Beaverdam outbreak update 1 – Thursday, Dec. 30, 2021

This information is current as of Dec. 30 at 9:18 a.m.

Hello Beaverdam residents and primary contacts,

I am writing to inform you that Beaverdam community is in a Confirmed Gastrointestinal (GI) Outbreak. This declaration was made late yesterday by Alberta Health Services (AHS) because 12 residents are currently displaying symptoms of GI illness and/or COVID-19. We are assisting the affected residents and asking them to isolate in their suites. AHS will test all 12 residents in community in the next couple of days.

Visits are still permitted with non-isolating residents. Visitors and residents must wear masks for the duration of all visits. Visitors must provide proof of full COVID-19 vaccination before entering community. If this is not possible, please consider virtual visits instead.

We continue to check in consistently with each resident. All outbreak protocols remain in place; AHS screening procedures continue at the community's entrance and all employees continue to wear personal protective equipment.

Please remind your loved one that all residents must wear medical grade masks, as much as possible, when they are outside of their suite or while another person is inside their suite.

We will provide another update Monday, Jan. 3 unless there are significant changes before then.

If you are a designated primary contact and have questions, you may contact me at tbowen@silvera.ca.

With thanks for your support,
Tim Bowen, Community Manager
