

Beaverdam outbreak update 9 – Monday, January 17, 2022

This information is current as of January 17 at 11:05 a.m.

Hello Beaverdam residents and primary contacts,

Current status

Category of case	Residents	Employees
Current active	7	4
Cumulative recovered	6	5

After Friday’s testing, we received seven new COVID-positive confirmations over the weekend. Residents who received confirmation of positive tests are isolating in their suites, and we continue to assist them with meal/tray service and personal care.

Today’s reminders

- Residents may see new faces around the community as additional service providers are providing support during the outbreak.
- If a resident must go to an essential medical appointment, please remember to inform the provider that the resident is coming from a community in confirmed COVID-19 outbreak.
- Visits are still permitted with non-isolating residents. Visitors and residents must wear masks for the duration of all visits. Visitors must provide proof of full COVID-19 vaccination before entering community. Virtual visits are also an option.
- Please remind your loved one to wear their mask as much as possible, fully covering their mouth and nose, and wash hands frequently.

We will send another update later this week. Thanks for your patience and goodwill.
